

HOUSE NEARS PASSAGE OF IKE'S A-MEASURE

Long Debate Ended; Will Vote Monday

Senate Still Locked In Filibuster Against the Bill

By United Press
The House hammered President Eisenhower's atomic bill through to the verge of approval early today but the Senate remained locked in a historic filibuster against the measure.

House Republican leaders planned to bring up the measure for a final vote on Monday. They hoped to obtain immediate approval.

The House adjourned at 3:14 a. m. this morning after a 17-hour debate. It was the largest continuous House debate in the memory of veteran congressmen. Adjournment came when Rep. Tom Murray (D-Tenn.) insisted on an engrossed copy of the bill—a parliamentary maneuver that forced the House to quit for the night.

The House battered down a series of Democratic amendments aimed at blocking Mr. Eisenhower's controversial plan to have the Atomic Energy Commission buy private power for the Tennessee Valley Authority.

But it rebuffed the President on one point. His original bill would have granted patents on atomic inventions for the first time to a proviso that the AEC could fix royalties and make such patents generally available.

But the House voted 137-113 to issue atomic patents in the regular manner. The only restriction would require the applicant to state that he did not make his discovery while working on a government atomic project.

A respite was in sight for weary senators and hard-pressed Senate employees, most of whom have been working 18 to 22 hours a day since the historic non-stop oratorical siege began.

Knowland planned to recess the Senate before midnight tonight until 10 a. m. Monday, in order to avoid a Sunday session.

Other congressional developments:

Housing: Sen. Harry F. Byrd (D-Va.) demanded that Atty. Gen. Herbert Brownell Jr. expose and prosecute "those who are guilty" in the federal housing scandals. Byrd said he has long been urging action. He said investigations by his Joint Congressional Committee on Non-Essential Government Spending "makes it definitely clear to me, that if the proper effort is made, many prosecutions could be undertaken."

McCarthy: Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy's investigating subcommittee has agreed to keep staff investigator Thomas W. Lavenia despite the Defense Department's refusal to give him security clearance. But the group agreed not to allow Lavenia to handle classified documents for the present. Lavenia blamed the Defense Department action on a role he had to assume as a Secret Service agent in 1943.

Contempt: The House unanimously voted to seek contempt of Congress prosecutions against 17 congressmen who refused to answer Communist questions posed by the Un-American Activities Committee.

Disasters: President Eisenhower told Congress in a special message today he is trying to encourage the states to do as much as they can to cope with disasters on their own and without federal aid. He said the Civil Defense Administration is promoting development of state and local programs to meet emergencies.

Woman Admits She And Husband Stole Household Articles

Juanita Flick, held in the Saline county jail, has admitted she and her husband took numerous items from a house near Pierson belonging to Mr. and Mrs. Tommy McCormack of Harrisburg. Sheriff Paul Spangler said today.

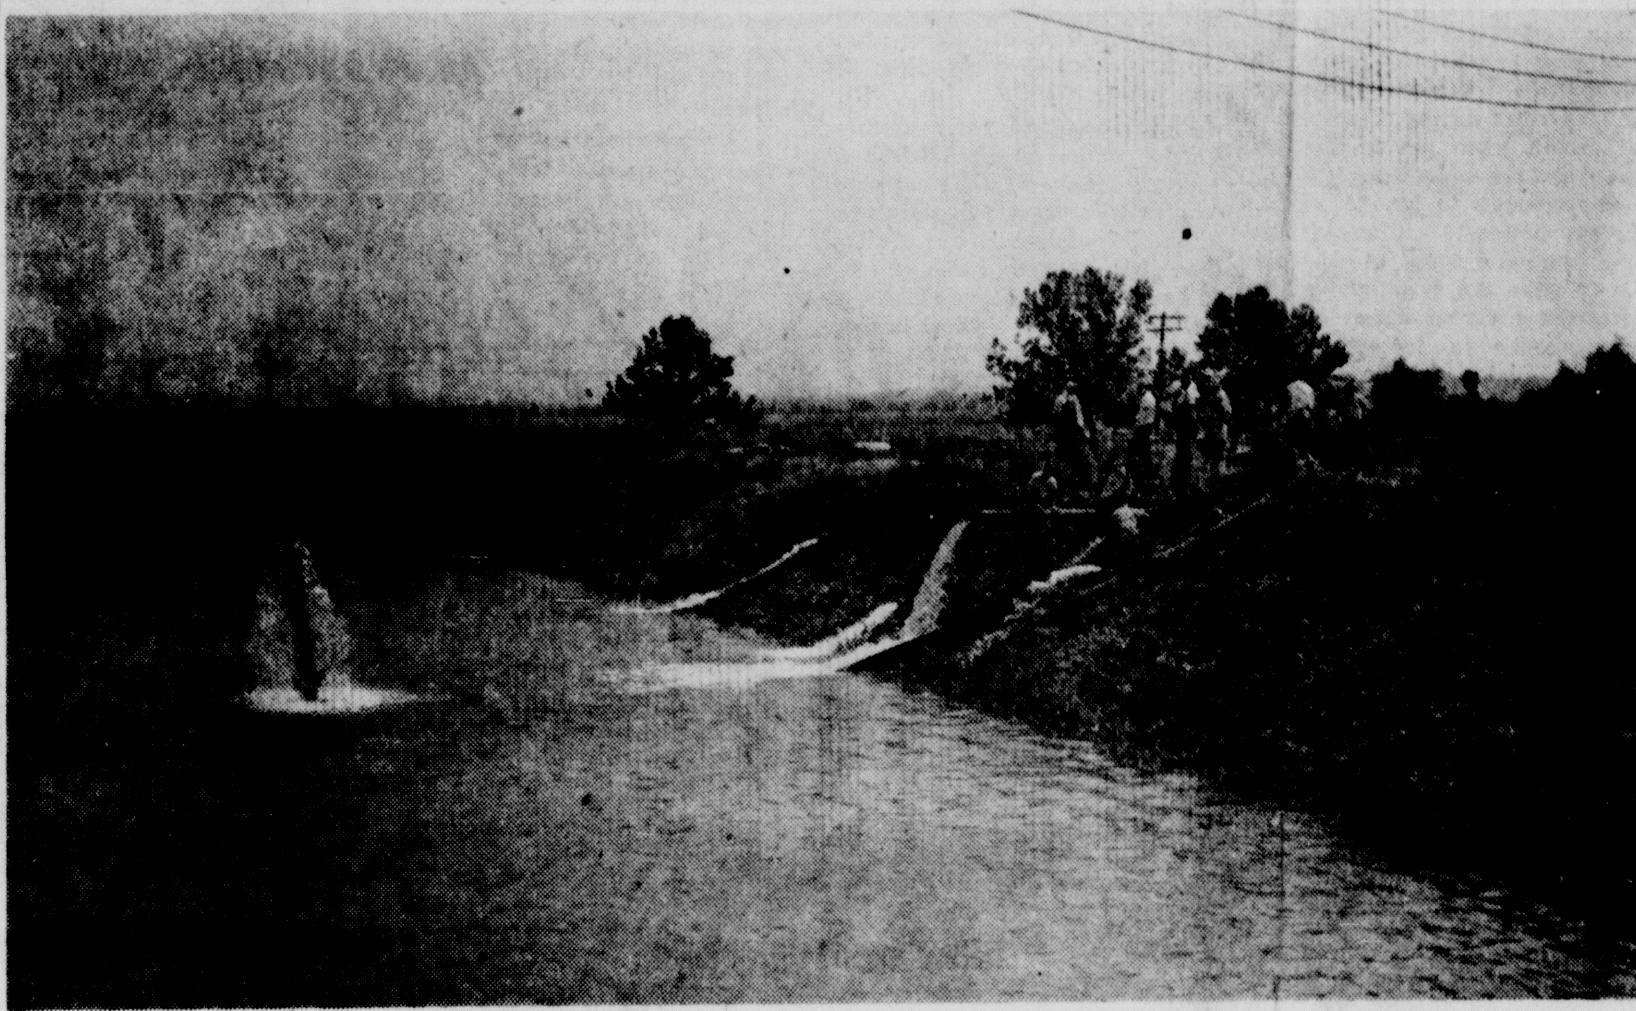

The Hardin county woman is being held with Tom Boswell and his wife, Helen, while officers hunt for her husband, Charles Flick, 23. A number of thefts already have been admitted.

The latest admission came about after Mrs. McCormack read yesterday's story about the trio being held. She told Spangler that when they moved out of the house some time ago to return to Harrisburg they rented the place to the Flicks while Flick was working as a mechanic at Mitchellville.

The Flicks departed, she said, taking with them a bed, antique dresser, three-burner oil stove, ice cream freezer, a closet door and a rear door.

Mrs. Flick, who admitted the thefts, said that the doors were taken to the home of her father, Joe Boswell, where they were installed. She and Tom Boswell are sister and brother.

Carrier Mills Reservoir Replenished By Heavy Rains

THE RAINS CAME AND CARRIER MILLS officials got busy to refill their nearly dry reservoir. All available pumping equipment, including the town's two fire trucks, were pressed into service to get the water into the reservoir. When pictures were made Friday approximately 2,000 gallons per minute were being pumped and seven streams of water can be seen in upper photo. The large pipe in the reservoir and the one on the bank are part of the regular pumping equipment and the other streams of water are from auxiliary equipment. Lower photo shows part of the equipment on the outside of the levee and the crowd on the bank indicates the interest of Carrier Mills' citizens. Mayor Freeman O'Keefe stated this morning additional pumps were acquired last night and the fire trucks had been returned to the fire station. He estimated that 300,000 were being pumped per hour at present and that pumping would continue all day today, all Saturday night and through Sunday. By tomorrow night it is thought the reservoir will be filled and pumping will stop. Carrier Mills had about three inches of rain Wednesday and Thursday making the continued pumping possible.

Luke Barnhill Likes Harrisburg Better Than Tucson

WE GROW 'EM BIGGER DEPT.: Timmo made a tour to the vicinity of South Ledford street yesterday to see Walter Sisky's tomatoes and went away impressed. He'd told me he had some whoopers coming on and I saw several—mostly green and a few ripening—that will probably weigh around three pounds. A couple might get close to four pounds.

Now these tomatoes I saw aren't in his yard; so don't go around looking for them.

Mr. Sisky said these tomatoes come from a Mexican seed he got from Jack Stobart, who lives nearby, and started growing this type of tomato about six years ago. He grows his own plants from seed and puts them out.

Biggest trouble he's had this year has been the blooms dropping off but since he's been using a bloom spray he's had better luck.

Mr. Sisky emphasized that to have good tomatoes you've got to take care of them, but confessed that this year he hasn't put the time in raising them that he'd like to.

He's been a raiser of big tomatoes for a long time. He related that 14 years ago he grew a tomato that weighed seven pounds, four ounces on grocery store scales up-town and that it was exhibited several days in the grocery store.

BACK HOME: Timmo talked with Luke Barnhill yesterday and learned that he is sure glad to get back to Harrisburg from Tucson, Ariz., where he and his family resided the past two years.

"I didn't realize Harrisburg was such a good town until I got away from it," he told me. "The climate is the only thing that Tucson has over Harrisburg and Harrisburg has a lot of things over Tucson."

Luke, who was police commissioner of Harrisburg when he left, resigning his city post, enumerated some of the ways this place is better than Tucson, then went into the traffic situation down there.

"In Arizona," he said, "when a motorist runs through a school

Three Youths Fined For Late Loitering

Three youths, picked up in Dorrisville on charges of loitering after 10 p. m., pleaded guilty to the charges, when arraigned before Police Magistrate Charles McKenzie today and all were assessed fines.

Police said the boys had ignored warnings about loitering together. Jess Leitheiter of Harrisburg was fined on a charge of assault and battery, the complaint being made by his wife.

Wheat Farmers Vote Approval of Gov't Controls

Unofficial Returns Show 73.3 Per Cent Favorable Vote

WASHINGTON (UP)—The nation's wheat farmers approved the toughest federal controls in history on their production next year in a touch-and-go election undecided until the last few ballots were counted early today.

Unofficial preliminary returns from the Agriculture Department on Friday's voting showed 73.3 per cent of 267,104 farmers voting for a 1955 wheat quota program coupled with stiff controls on other crops. A two-thirds vote was necessary for approval.

It was surprisingly light vote, the smallest in the four years that the elections have been held. And the percentage favoring the controls was the lowest on record. From 800,000 to 1,000,000 farmers were estimated to be eligible to vote.

While a few scattered counties were unreported, and 14,602 challenged votes remained to be tallied department officials said there weren't enough votes uncounted to change the verdict.

Secretary of Agriculture Ezra T. Benson said, "Results of the referendum on wheat marketing quotas show that most of our wheat farmers recognize the serious wheat surplus problem and are willing to make production adjustments to help bring supplies into better balance with demand."

The total vote from the 47 reporting states was 195,801 for the control program and 71,303 against. Connecticut, where only seven votes were cast last year, had yet to report.

Until North Dakota reported—the 44th state to be heard from—the election was undecided with 66.7 per cent of those voting favoring controls.

At that point the diversified farming states seemed to be out-voting the Wheat Belt states and turning the election against the federal cut-back.

But North Dakota farmers gave overwhelming support to the program with 42,206, or 95.7 per cent of the 48,279 voting, approving the program.

The outcome of the referendum means that all wheat farmers growing more than 15 acres of wheat will have to accept acreage allotments cutting plantings about 13 per cent next year. Those violating allotments will become ineligible for price supports and have to pay a cash fine on each bushel of wheat produced on excess acreage.

ILLINOIS FARMERS VOTE AGAINST QUOTAS

CHICAGO (UP)—Illinois farmers have voted against crop marketing quotas, returns of the national wheat referendum showed today.

The national vote showed that Illinois wheat growers cast 7,414 votes against marketing quotas to 5,434 for. It was estimated that 20 per cent of the eligible growers cast ballots.

There were 1,187 challenges, which even if added to the vote in favor of quotas would not affect the result since a two-thirds margin was necessary for a quota victory.

Miners' Exams at Eldorado Aug. 14

The Illinois miners' examining board will conduct an examination for miners' certificates at Eldorado Aug. 14, from 9 a. m. to noon, at the mine rescue station.

Mr. and Mrs. Coyle moved to Harrisburg from Chicago, where he was a drug store manager, two years ago and he has managed Rainbow's since that time.

Mr. Coyle explained that in his new work as a manufacturer's representative he would contact users, chiefly industrial plants, for manufacturers.

Mr. and Mrs. Coyle will continue to live in Harrisburg.

Blonde Miriam Stevenson of South Carolina Wins Title 'Miss Universe'

LONG BEACH, Calif. (UP)—Blonde Miriam Stevenson, a wholesome beauty from South Carolina reigned today as "Miss Universe" of 1954.

The 21-year-old Miss Stevenson was the first contestant to capture the title for the United States when she was selected last night over 33 foreign beauty queens.

Miss Stevenson, who won the Miss U.S.A. title Wednesday night, was an upset winner over favored Maria Rocha of Brazil.

For her "wholesome all-American type" of beauty and her bust to hips measurements of 36-24-36, Miss Stevenson will receive a $250-a-week movie contract from Universal-International Studio in Hollywood.

Wins Convertible
Besides her salary, guaranteed for six weeks, she won a snappy $4,000 convertible and other prizes which totaled almost $8,000 in cash value, not including opportunities for advertising endorsements.

British Pilot Charges Two MIGs Flown by Russians Shot Down Passenger Plane

HONG KONG (UP)—A British pilot charged today that two Red jet fighter planes which he believes were piloted by Russians shot down his airliner near the Communist-held island of Hainan.

Although Capt. Philip Blown was specific in blaming the attack on the Soviet Union, the British instructed their charge d'affaires in Peiping, Red China, to protest against the shooting down of the airliner.

A spokesman for the British Foreign Office in London said Blown's plane was not off course and that the government was "satisfied the planes could not have come from anywhere else than Hainan."

"We were attacked by two MIGs," Blown said from his hospital bed in Hong Kong. "I believe they were piloted by Russians. Our plane was badly shot up." Hainan, in the South China Sea, is reported to be the base for Soviet air and submarine operations.

Eight Survivors Known
Only eight persons aboard the plane, including three Americans, were known to have survived. The stewardess and radio operator were killed and eight others are missing.

P. M. Thorburn, a survivor, said the red-nosed planes attacked the airliner from behind.

"I'm sure they used incendiary bullets," Thorburn said. "I heard something noisy but couldn't identify it at first. Then I realized it was bullets and yelled 'Everyone get down, we are being shot at.'"

"Everyone went on the floor. I saw one plane for sure and I am certain there were two. They had small red noses but I did not notice any other markings and don't know what type they were."

Child Stays Calm
"There was no panic. The child (Valerie Parish, a survivor) was perfect and very calm. The bullets struck along the fuselage from behind, starting from the tail."

"Several persons in our plane were struck but I don't know which ones."

Thorburn said he could hear the wounded passengers moaning.

"The tail assembly apparently broke off when the plane struck the water," Thorburn said. "All of a sudden I was swimming in the water. I remember seeing the co-pilot near. He and I got out in the open and broke out a raft."

Thorburn's wife was hit on the ear by a bullet but not seriously wounded.

Blown told United Press Correspondent Pete Sum that his radio operator, Steve Wong, was "killed instantly."

"You're a reporter?" Blown asked when Sum tried to obtain more details. "I don't want to say anything more."

Nine other persons were still missing. The survivors—including Mrs. L. L. Parish and her daughter Valerie, 6, of Los Angeles and P. S. Thacher of Stonington, Conn.—were rescued by American flying boats.

Mrs. Parish's husband, who has been in the Orient as a pilot and exporter since 1945, and their two sons, Larry, 4, and Philip, 2, were among the missing.

FT. DIX, N. J. (UP)—A young Army lieutenant was declared innocent Friday of charges he permitted 225 men to stand at attention for over an hour in 92-degree heat.

First Lt. Robert Morgan, 28, of 57 W. River St., Wilkes-Barre, Pa., a veteran of World War II and the Korean war, said he was "very happy" the eight-man court martial board found him innocent of dereliction of duty.

Morgan's administrative first sergeant, Richard Witbeck of Wellington, Ohio, described as a "sadistic individual," still faces court martial action in the same case.

Specifically, Witbeck will be charged with maltreatment. He allegedly ordered more than a dozen recruits doused with water when they fainted while standing at attention and ordered them back into ranks.

An investigation after the June 21 "heat treatment" incident disclosed that Witbeck was in command of Morgan's trainee company when the men were ordered to stand at attention in the heat as a disciplinary measure.

Several defense witnesses testified that Morgan was in the company orderly room during the incident and that Witbeck alone disciplined the men.

Pvt. John Adler, 26, of Rye, N.Y., a Dartmouth College graduate and a former Air Force officer, said the punishment was ordered by Witbeck. He described the sergeant as "dictatorial and tyrannical—a sadistic individual."

When the first chicken eggs appear on the range it is a signal that the time is near for housing pullets in laying quarters. It also is a good time for the flock owner
to select and begin feeding a laying mash that he expects to use throughout the winter season.

Although grasshoppers soon will be plentiful and may be high in protein don't expect chickens to make a living on them. If summer and fall egg production is wanted,
continue supplying the chickens
with good mash feed.

If grass on the poultry range becomes poor during a hot, dry summer the chickens confined to the range may begin to show signs of vitamin A deficiency. Such signs are weakness, emaciation, ruffled plumage, slow growth, and poor egg production. In such instances some other forms of vitamin A should be added to the ration rather than depending on the depleted grass supply.

The farm operator who is short on capital and needs protection against risk should inquire about "TERM" life insurance. This kind of insurance will give him the greatest amount of protection per dollar spent.

Not holding summer weeds in check may result in the loss of small fruits plants. Weeds smother the young plants, often killing them. If there is a lack of time for cultivating to keep down weeds
they may readily be held in check
by using a heavy summer mulch
under the spread of most fruit plants.

An intensive system of farming is one which has a large amount of labor and capital required per acre of land used. The degree of intensity should be adjusted to the management skill of the farmer.
This always requires careful planning.

On many southern Illinois farms
the labor invested may be the most important source of income. The use of the farmer's labor always must be planned so as to give the greatest productivity for the effort put forth. That is where good management comes into the picture. A high per-acre income is needed under the intensive system so that the amount of the farm business will be equivalent to that of a farmer with more acres who has a less intensive type enterprise requiring less labor and capital investment per acre.

Most good producers of hogs follow the two litter system of breeding for the high markets of spring and fall. This is a problem of good management that may mean the difference between a profit

and a loss from the hog enterprise.

By the same token, many successful dairy men follow the practice of having their cows freshen in the fall months when the milk prices are at their best. Thus they get their heaviest flow of milk
during the good price period. Furthermore, they find that good dairy cows freshening in the fall will maintain good production into the spring when they are turned out fresh pastures.

Here is the week's capsule observation. Pasture at its best improves all the rest (of the farm).

Soil Fertility Program Will Boost Profits

Would you settle for a profit of $2.77 an acre when you could get $32.57 an acre? If you had the choice, you'd surely take the larger profit.

L. B. Miller, soil fertility specialist at the University of Illinois, says if you are not following a good soil fertility program. The program you follow on your farm will largely determine whether you make a good profit or merely farm for fun.

In an experiment at the Urbana soil experiment field, one plot that had been heavily cropped received no soil treatment. During the seven years from 1947 to 1953 the yearly net returns after costs averaged $2.77 an acre.

Another similar plot that received
a full treatment of limestone,
rock phosphate, potash and nitrogen returned an average profit of $32.57 an acre during the same period.

On both plots a four-year rotation of corn, soybeans, wheat and hay was followed. On the treated plot fertilizer was applied according to recommendations based on soil tests for limestone, phosphorus and potassium requirements
plus a moderate amount of nitrogen. Costs were figured on the basis of rates supplied by the Department of Agricultural Economics at the University.

Buy Chickens Bred to Produce Plenty of Eggs

It pays to buy chickens that are bred to produce lots of eggs.

Don J. Bray, extension poultry specialist at the University of Illinois College of Agriculture, says
a hen that lays twice as many eggs
as another may be up to eight times as profitable.

The reason is that a hen eats a certain amount of feed each year to maintain her body weight even though she does not produce a single egg, Bray says. She will eat more feed as she lays more eggs. But the feed needed per egg decreases as rate of production increases. This means that a hen that lays 200 eggs a year will use less feed per egg than a hen that lays 100 eggs a year.

Light breeds of chickens generally produce eggs more profitably than the heavier ones because they eat less feed to maintain body weight. And light hens should lay plenty of good-sized eggs.

For highest profits you will need to cull closely, Bray points out.
One non-producer can eat up most of the profit from one of your best layers during the year. And keep egg and feed records so that you can tell whether or not your flock is making money for you.

For most pole-type farm buildings it's best to buy poles that have been pressure-treated full length according to the specifications of the American Wood Preservers association, says a University of Illinois forester.

Drouth Conditions Make Long Range Planning Necessary

By L. B. Kimmel, Farm Adviser

Farmers who live in the southern part of the state of Illinois
realize the limitations of soils
which are underlain by tight subsoil. This means that there are certain crops which do better
under such conditions.

Light rainfall during June, July and August reduces yields of corn, soybeans and pastures. The problem now arises what can we do about this? Why must farmers sell livestock during these periods of drouth when too many others
are doing the same thing?

What seems to be the solution to our problem? It would seem that the wise thing to do would be to grow the crops and plan a livestock program which has the best chance to succeed. Grass crops and winter legumes or deep rooted legumes seem to be the answer. Members of the grass family of plants are wheat, oats,
winter or spring oats, barley, rye, fescue, orchard grass, alfalfa, and sweet clover are deep rooted legumes.

We had one of the best crops
on record this year. Most farmers are bragging about their wheat yields. Winter oats made 60 to 80 bushels in some cases. Barley and rye made good early pasture.
The first cuttings of grass and legumes were good. Then came the hot winds, lack of rainfall, high temperatures, and we forget the good winter crops and start looking at corn and beans which are beginning to dry up and conclude that there is no money in farming.

Perhaps we should change our plans some. Most anyone with large numbers of livestock can grow early and late grasses. This can be cut for hay or packed into trench silos. The University of Illinois is wintering beef steers on silage made from oats in early dough stage. This seems to be one of the best silages one can make.
Early cut grasses and oats or rye silage may be fed during summer if conditions make this necessary. If the silage is not needed it may be held over two or three years in the silo if properly made and sealed by packing.

Perhaps we should depend upon a farming system that we can produce feed and livestock in spite of a drouth. Others do this, so can you. It may mean a change in your farming program.
In addition to this insurance program, the good farmer will continue to grow corn and soybeans in his rotation. In most cases this will pay off and very seldom does he fail completely on these crops.

If he has secured his livestock investment with early silage, enough of it—and winter pasture of rye, oats, or barley, the livestock farmer is in better shape.

Plant rye, oats and fescue in early fall. Now is a good time to start thinking about it. In most cases, to wait until soybeans are harvested to seed these crops, not enough early growth to give heavy fall and winter grazing can be expected.

High Quality Roughages
Cut Dairy Feed Costs

High-quality roughages can replace part or all of the protein supplements in dairy rations.
That's what 30 dairy herd improvement association members proved when they made maximum use of high-quality roughages in 1953, says L. R. Fryman, extension dairy specialist at the University of Illinois. These farmers did not use high-protein feeds in their dairy rations.

This practice paid off both in production and in increased profits. DHIA records show that average butterfat production for each cow was slightly higher—four pounds more—than the 376-pound average for all cows on test in 1953.

The main advantage, however,
came in lower feed costs. Average feed cost was $150 per cow compared with $168 for all cows on DHIA test. These herds average 25.4 cows each, so the saving of $18 a cow cut feed costs an average of $457 for each herd for the year.

At a time when feed costs are rising, dairy profits depend on efficient production, says Fryman.
Making maximum use of high-quality roughages along with farm grains is one way to lower production costs.

Farmers Who Hold Wheat May Get Higher Prices

With the 1954 wheat crop in this region expected to be much smaller than last year, farmers may make money by holding their wheat, says
Farm Adviser L. B. Kimmel.

Reports from University of Illinois agricultural economist L. J.
Norton show that a smaller wheat crop plus the government loan program may mean less "free" wheat
from this area for sale in the markets. Norton believes this could cause a substantial increase over present wheat prices. These prices are now about 65 cents under the loan price.

Kimmel says the prospects for a smaller wheat crop are based on June 1 estimates for the total wheat crop in Missouri and in states east of the Mississippi river. At that time 1954 production was expected to be about 100 million bushels below the 1953 crop. Wheat in these states is mainly soft wheat or the softer types of hard wheat.

Farmers in this region placed nearly 100 million bushels of wheat
under loan or purchase agreements in 1953, says Kimmel. If as much goes under loan this year, the supply of "free" wheat for sale will be only about 60 percent as large as last year's supply.

Farmers who have wheat with a low moisture content may be able to hold it for higher prices.
They could either store it on the farm or use short-time storage in local elevators that may have unused space until corn and beans are harvested.

A stronger demand may also help
the price of soft wheat. This demand is largely the result of relatively low prices for this type compared with others. These lower prices stimulated the use of soft wheat for feed and milling and also for export.

You can avoid a lot of work
and machine use by self-feeding silage from stacks or trenches.

Save on next winter's protein feed bill by putting up high quality alfalfa hay this summer with plenty of leaves.

Most Illinois soils are capable of producing average yields of 100 bushels of corn and 50 bushels of wheat an acre.

Latest recommendations from the University of Illinois call for application of 400 pounds of 60 percent muriate of potash for a four-year rotation on soils which test low in available potash.

A University of Illinois fruit specialist recommends tearing out the oldest strawberry plants as soon as you have picked the last berries of the season, and then loosening
the soil so new plants can get started for next year's crop.

Gary Hull Honored On 12th Birthday

Gary Dean Hull was honored recently on his 12th birthday at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Milo Hull, in Liberty.

Following the opening of gifts refreshments of cake, Dixie cups, and Pepsi Cola were served to Linda Hughes, Joyce Harrison, Ann Murrow, Caroline Harrison, Gaynelle Bristow, Evelyn Robinson, Eddie Miller, Butch Burns, Jerry Robinson, Terry Alan Hull and an uncle, Ralph Robinson, from Hammond, Ind.

Larry Morse and John Ed Kuppert sent gifts but were unable to attend.

Mrs. W. O. Gaskins and daughter, Mrs. Louise LaBaw, Miss Mary Richardson, and Mrs. Ed Blankenship, the latter of Eldorado, left Friday evening for Chicago and Elmhurst, Ill., to spend the weekend. They will attend the 25th wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Sarge Kensley of Chicago. Open house will be held Sunday afternoon at the Ernest Sturm home in Elmhurst. Mrs. Kensley, the former Marietta Gaskins, is the daughter of Mrs. Gaskins and the family gathering will be at another daughter's home.

Miss Mary Richardson was visited briefly Friday afternoon by her nephew, Charles Richardson of Evansville, Ind. Mr. Richardson is a paint contractor and was on his way to Marion where he has a painting contract on some school buildings there.

Lambert Family Reunion Sept. 5

The annual Lambert family reunion will be held this year on Sept. 5 at the Cave-in-Rock park. Members who attended last year, and members or friends who plan to attend this year are requested to register with the secretary, Mrs. Verna Angell, Rural Route 1, Marion, on or before Aug. 7.

Relatives living out of the state will be contacted personally by the secretary if their addresses can be secured.

A meeting of all officers will be called at a later date as soon as registration has been completed.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Booten have had the following guests during the past week: their son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Booten, Chicago; Mrs. Booten's sister, Mrs. Jane Hill and children, Opal and Jerry from Harvey; and Mr. Booten's sister, Inez Boyd, and children, Michael and Collette, from Delray Beach, Fla., who also visited with her mother, Mrs. Harry Bryant, and her sister, Mrs. Charles Duncan and family. Mrs. Boyd's stepfather, Harry Bryant, is seriously ill.

flash signal, the fine is $25 or 25 days in jail.

"And if there is a collision," he continued, "the vehicles stay right where they are until an officer arrives. He does his questioning and if one or both are at fault, he gives citations to appear in court. And when you appear it's ten dollars or ten days in jail for that, too. It makes no difference how slight the collision, they give out citations to those at fault."

"And now I'll tell you a good one on me," he concluded. "I hadn't been in Harrisburg 24 hours when I got a ticket for letting my parking meter run out. I'd put a nickel in the meter but I got talking too much, and when I got back the meter had expired. And right there on the windshield was a parking ticket."

OBSERVATION: This, I know, could not be general, but I've noticed in making the rounds uptown that some of the boys who fought the lake the hardest are now squawking the most about the water.

MEET THE AMERICAN PUBLIC—The American public, viewed here in eight different aspects, has changed significantly over the years. For example, only 12 out of every 100 adults paid a federal personal income tax in 1940, but by 1950 this proportion jumped to 62 out of 100. Despite World War II and the current draft only 22 per cent have military experience. Data from National Industrial Conference Board.

2892-2917 on their No. 2 Woodard Heirs et al. SW SE SE, 35-78-6c.

In the same area, Calvert Drill-ing-Boling-Levine and Yabrove have installed pumping equipment to complete their No. 4 Ben Davis, "A" lease, in the Cypress 2535-40 after fracturing. It swabbed 176 barrels clean oil in 22 hours right after the fracture treatment, and pumped 84 barrels oil the first 12 hours on the pump.

Calvert's No. 1 J. Bona, two miles south of Galatia, is still a location awaiting rotary digging tools. They expect to be on this location by the first of August.

V-T Drilling is digging below 2480 for James R. Grandin on his No. 1 E. Kittling, 8-88-7c, just north of Eldorado, on the east edge of the Carter production in the area of Mr. Grandin's No. 1 and 2 T. Reeder are both still locations.

Run Electriclog Three miles east of Eldorado, Mi-ami Operating's No. 1 Stanley Ed-mister et al. SE SE SW, is pump testing the Cypress sand 2502-24 after fracturing, and swabbed oil at the rate of four barrels per hour.

In 14-88-7c, Ashland Oil and Re-fining is running electriclog on their No. 1 Patton-Matthias Unit, after drill stem tests of the Cypress, Benoit, Aux Vases and McClosky lines, all tested non-commercial. The Cypress made 30 feet of slight-ly oil mixed mud with a 290 pound bottom hole pressure. Looks like another one that shouldn't have been drilled. The same operators No. 1 Flora Garrett, SE NW SE, 14-88-7c, is still a location. It is doubtful whether this will be drilled now, since it is only two loca-tions (1320 feet) west of the above well.

Byron Rucker and Bud Rue have their No. 1 Slow Heirs on a pro-duction test opposite the Aux Vases 2912-28 after fracturing. Their No. 1 J. Bolding, SE SW NW, is clean-ing out and testing the Tar Spring sand with fair saturation from 2263-71.

Drilling on Stinson No. 2 Also in section 17-88-7c, Illinois Mid Continent is drilling below 1480 on their No. 2 Leslie Stinson, with the No. 3 still a location. Dee Watson of Mt. Carmel is the rotary contractor.

In 18-88-7c, one half mile north-west, Pep Drilling and Frank King, both of Mt. Vernon, Illinois, are digging below 2610 on their No. 2 test on the George Watson lease, in the northeast forty acres of the section.

Nash Redwine's No. 1 Ruth Stin-son, 20-88-7c, just north of Eldo-rado, is flowing through the tubing after fracturing the Paint Creek sand 2706-26. They have been shut in due to lack of tank space but the well should complete for around 40 to 50 barrels a day.

In 23-88-7c, two miles straight east of Eldorado, Walter Duncan and Calvert Drilling are running casing on their No. 1 Adams-Simp-son, NW SW NE, to test the Aux Vases 2852-73. A drill stem test recovered 2500 feet of gas, 25 feet of oil and gas mixed mud, 60 feet of heavy oil mixed mud.

G. L. Reaser's No. 2 E. C. Scott, 23-88-7c, is pump testing in the Cy-press sand 2526-55 after fractur-ing, and his No. 1 George Shaver et al. in the same area, is awaiting cable tools after setting pipe on the Rosiclare sand 2975-79 and 2984-97.

His No. 1 Melton, SW NW SW, 23-88-7c, is still a location to be drilled upon the completion of the above wells.

Four Illinois Labor Leaders Are Indicted

SPRINGFIELD —Four Illinois labor leaders were under federal indictment today on charges of labor racketeering.

The four business agents of American Federation of Labor lo-cals were charged with shaking down a pipeline contractor for a total of $7,950.

Indicted were: Edwin H. Sander, 65, Quincy, teamsters local 80. Edwin J. Pavlat, 42, Wataga, Galesburg teamsters local 15. William R. Watkins, Jackson-ville, 43, common laborers local 253.

Guy H. Harmon, Peoria, op-erating engineers local 649. Bond for the four was set at $10,000 and bench warrants had been issued for their arrest.

The indictments state the alleged shakedowns occurred in 1952 and were made at the expense of a firm building a pipeline for the Sinclair Oil Co. from Quincy, Ill., to East Chicago, Ind.

This was a link in the same pipe-line on which contractors were victims of labor racketeering by five St. Louis, Mo., labor leaders who were convicted and sentenced to terms ranging up to 12 years.

Believes Red Clergy Forced To Convention

NEW YORK (UP) — A high church dignitary and former Hun-garian statesman believes four Hungarian Protestant clergymen scheduled to speak at the conven-tion of the World Council of Churches at Evanston, Ill., "would be gratified not to speak."

Msgr. Bela Varga, now chairman of the refugee Hungarian National Council, said Friday he was certain many of them were being forced to attend the convention which be-gins Aug. 25 as Communist spokes-men.

"Each of them," Monsignor Var-ga said, "will get an inspection by the secret police. They will speak not their own speeches, but the speeches of Molotov and Mal-enkov."

"I believe they would be grati-fied not to speak, but they will not say so publicly because they have families which must be pro-ected. They will not come as free agents, and in spirit they will be appreciative of what we say about them."

Monsignor Varga said that as a Catholic priest he was hesitant to criticize Protestant clergymen but that he was certain many of them were being forced to attend the convention.

Rep. Alvin M. Bentley (R-Mich.) meanwhile, served notice in Wash-ington that he would hold subcom-mittee hearings in New York, Pittsburgh, Cleveland and Wash-ington to reveal "the Communist collaboration" of some of the Iron Curtain clergymen scheduled to at-tend the convention.

In addition to the four from Hun-gary, eight from Czechoslovakia are expected to attend the conven-tion.

On a recent Saturday, the Vienna Times reports, W. O. Verhines, a member of the Operative Plasterers and Cement Masons' International Association of United States and Canada, Local 359, Harrisburg, se-cured the services of quite a num-ber of union members to help fin-ish concrete on the basement floor of the Vienna Baptist church, un-der construction.

The Times showed a picture of the men at work. The story re-lates:

"More than 20 members of the union from several cities through-out southern Illinois turned out to donate their services for the day and the church basement floor was finished in record time. Some, how-ever, who were not members of the union also donated a day

Nash to Play Johnston City Here Sunday

The Nash baseball club will play host to the Johnston City Merchants Sunday afternoon at the town park diamond, game time 2:30. A preliminary game, featuring two all-star clubs from the Kiwanis league, will be played starting at 12:30.

In an earlier game this season, played at Johnston City, Nash was the loser. Jack Nolen will get the nod to start on the hill for Nash, with Wilson his receiver. Others in the starting lineup will be Shewmake, Fulkerson, Karnes, Ziegler, Sisk, K. Nolen and Harrison. Roark and Parker will be on hand to help in the hurling department.

The Johnston City battery will be Trepani catching with Kendricks, Tauran or Bryant pitching.

Nash will be looking for its ninth win of the season to go with the same number of defeats.

ALL-STARS TO PLAY PRELIMINARY GAME
The American and National league all-stars of the Kiwanis league will play the preliminary game Sunday at the town park diamond. The following players have been selected:

National league — Bishop, Hathaway, Hull, Mitchell, Spurlock, Speaks, Alexander, Hassett, Kinaman, Powell, Jones, Molinarolo, Barger, Hefner and Murrow.
American league — Ziegler, Dardeen, Holden, Cummins, Byron, Williams, Parks, Ozeo, Vick, Hatcher, Henshaw, Dowdy, Furlong, Robinson and Fulkerson.

Massac Golfers Here Sunday for Return Match of Series

Golfers from the Massac County club will play members of the Egyptian Golf association at the local club tomorrow, in a return match of a series begun two weeks ago at Metropolis.

Local linksters were pleased with their reception at Metropolis in every way except one: they lost every match to the Massac crew. Intensive practice since that time and the advantage of a home course might possibly provide a slightly different outcome to the return match.

President Urges States to Cope With Disasters

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower told Congress today he is trying to encourage the states to do as much as they can to cope with disasters without federal aid.

In a special report to Congress on operation of the federal Disaster Relief Act since it was passed in 1950, he listed an area that has been designated as a "major disaster" zone 51 times because of things like floods, snowstorms, tornadoes, drought or fire. He said the federal government has allocated $66,683,704 in aid funds.

Mr. Eisenhower said the federal Civil Defense Administration, which administers the law, has made "excellent progress" in promoting the development of state and local plans to meet emergency problems.

"However, states and local governments are still far from being self-sufficient and still require federal assistance even in areas where certain types of disasters tend to recur."

Stock Car Racing Program at Speedway Tonight

Stock car racing will be held at the Saline County Speedway tonight.

After two weeks of racing on Monday nights, the racing program will resume the Saturday night schedule, with time trials set for 7:30 this evening and racing about thirty minutes later.

Association members decided to give Mondays a trial, but after two weeks it was found that Saturday was much more popular with both drivers and fans.

The track, which has been almost too dusty for good racing the past couple of weeks, should be in fine condition. The showers this week have been sufficient to get the track in the finest shape of the season.

This evening marks the halfway mark in the season and the winner of the first half trophy will be decided on the outcome of tonight's races.

Leonard Grisham of Eldorado and Eddie Hancock are practically tied in points at the present and both will be battling tonight to pick up those extra points that will be needed to claim the half-way championship.

Snead Meets Harrison in PGA Third Round

ST. PAUL (AP) — Slammin' Sam Snead, the colorful crowd favorite, tees off against hot-scoring Dutch Harrison today in the 36-hole third round of the rugged 36th annual PGA golf tournament.

Cary Middlecoff of Kiamasha Lake, N. Y., another favorite, meets Ted Kroll of West Hartford, N. Y., and Shelley Mayfield of Chicopee, Mass., who hit a blistering eight-under-par pace Friday, face PGA President Horton Smith of Detroit.

Walter Burkemo of Detroit, the defending champion, makes another stab toward a second title against Johnny Revolta of Skokie, Ill.

Ed (Porky) Oliver though he was "jinxed" because he won low medal qualifying honors, but he still was in the running and faced Chick Herbert of Northville, Mich.

Other third round matches included Tommy Bolt of Houston vs. Jim Browning of Weston, Mass.; Charles Bassler of Catonsville, Md., vs. Jerry Barber of La Canada, Calif.; and Roberto De Vincenzo, South American Open champ vs. Elroy Marti of Houston, Tex.

"Black Friday" Survivors
Today's 15 contenders were survivors of "Black Friday." They battled through two 18-hole rounds, and some of the biggest names fell.

The field switched to 36-hole rounds today, which favors the big timers who can "outlast" the unknowns, and the title will be decided Tuesday.

Among Friday's victims were U. S. Open champ Ed Furgol, who lost to Harrison, one-up, and Jack Burke Jr., who fired a four-under-par 67 on the first round but lost to Harrison, one-up. Harrison swung around in 86, then beat Johnny Palmer of Charlotte, N. C., 4 and 3.

Results in City Tennis Matches

City tennis tourney matches resumed last night and probably will continue through Tuesday, Jim McKee, manager, said today.

Yesterday's results:

Karnes, Sahara, Jaycees, James Win Kiwanis Tilts

Karnes Hardware beat Pickford's, 7-2. Sahara smashed a 29-0 victory over the NYC; the Jaycees rugged the Athletic House, 9-7, and James Bros. barely edged the Palace, 11-10, in games played yesterday in the Kiwanis league.

Hefner twirled a two-hitter for Karnes, with D. Pickford collecting both hits for the losers. Stanley paced the winners with three hits. The Sahara Coals had a field day at bat with 22 hits and 29 runs as D. Goben hurled a three-hit shut-out over the NYC. Anglin collected two of the three hits. Cass was the losing pitcher.

The Jaycees continued their winning ways in their 9-7 victory over the Athletic House. Edwards paced his team with three hits and also was the winning pitcher. James Bros. barely edged the Palace, 11-10 as they had only five hits but made them count. Gons was the winner and Henshaw the loser.

Monday's Schedule
3 p. m.
Triple A vs. Palace, town park.
Lions vs. Karnes, Taylor field.
5 p. m.
Shells vs. Excel, town park.
Cokes vs. Texaco, Taylor field.

KIWANIS LEAGUE SIDELIGHTS

The American League takes on the National league Sunday at 12:30. To make things more even the leagues will switch pitchers, it should be a good game.

The favored Coca Colas are now living up to their early expectations. After losing the first half with a 4-4 record, they are now tied with Walker's Cleaners, who won the first half, for first place.

When the time comes to select the most valuable player in the American league, Jim Cummins will certainly be one of the first players in line for the honor. Cummins covers shortstop for the Cokes and is rated the best shortstop in the league.

The sensation of the Kitty league this year has been "Butchie" Diggs, who pitched most of the season with a cast on his arm which was removed only recently. Turner's Cafe has been improving greatly and will be doubly tough now that "Butchie's" arm is sound again.

Eldorado Merchants To Play Marion At Raleigh Sunday

The Eldorado Merchants will be host to the strong Marion baseball team Sunday in a game to be played at the town park diamond located in front of the grade school in Raleigh. Game time will be 2:30 p. m. There will be no admission charge.

The Eldorado lineup will include the following players: Cooley, Gidcumb, Thaxton, F. Griffith and Hagen in the infield, Malone, Beasley, Hartford and Arto in the outfield, Edwards or D. Griffith pitcher, and either Hartford or D. Griffith catcher.

Merchants Play At Cambria Sunday

The Harrisburg Merchants travel to Cambria tomorrow for a baseball contest, leaving the local park diamond at 12:30 p. m. Trammel will hurl for the locals.

Braves Beat Giants, 3-2, On Thomson's Hit in 9th; Cards Beat Dodgers, 6-4

By MILTON RICHMAN
United Press Sports Writer

Bobby Thomson's latest ninth-inning heroics won neither a pennant nor any cheers from the Giants, but at least they won a ball game for the Braves and helped make their famous winter deal look a little less lopsided.

The only resemblance between the ninth-inning pennant-winning homer Thomson hit for the Giants in 1951 and the ninth-inning pinch single he delivered to beat them 3-2 Friday night was that both blows ended both games.

Thomson's single, off relief pitcher Hoyt Wilhelm, scored pinch runner Jim Pendleton from second base.

Thomson's anxiousness to "come through" against his old teammates was easily understandable.

It marked the first time he was facing them and it was only his fourth official trip to the plate this year. While recuperating from a broken ankle he suffered in spring training, Thomson was forced to help the Braves chiefly by rooting for them alongside the radio or television set while Johnny Antonelli and Don Liddle, two of the players who went to the Giants in exchange for him, were racking up a total of 18 victories between them.

Adcock, Mathews Homer. Earlier in the game, credited to Bob Buhl who hurled an eight-hitter, Joe Adcock had hit his 14th homer and Eddie Mathews his 24th for Milwaukee. Despite the loss, the Giants remained six games ahead of Brooklyn in the National league race as the Cards licked the Dodgers, 6-4.

Joe Cunningham's two-run homer gave the St. Louis triumph to Vic Raschi even though Raschi fell behind when he was nicked for early homers by Sandy Amoros and Gil Hodges. The Cardinal victory moved them into a fourth place tie with the Phillies who won their 13-inning nightcap with the Cubs, 5-3, on Danny Schell's single with the bases full after losing the opener, 5-2, to Howie Pollet.

Pirates Beat Reds, 7-4

A pinch two-run homer by Sid Gordon enabled Dick Littlefield of the Pirates to a 7-4 victory over the Reds despite homers by Jim Greengrass and Andy Seminick. Cleveland fattened its American league lead to 1 1/2 games with a barrage of three homers that beat their old Yankee nemesis, Ed Lopat, 8-2, in the first of a key three-game series. Larry Doby smashed his 18th and 19th homers while Al Smith drove in five runs with a three-run homer, a double and single. Early Wynn was the winner.

Harry Dorish, with relief help from Virgil Trucks, hurled the White Sox to a 7-1 conquest over the Red Sox in a game in which rookie Ron Jackson homered while Chuck Stobbs, staked to a five-run lead in the first inning, pitched Washington to an 8-3 decision over Detroit. Roy Sievers homered for the Senators.

Duane Pillette of the Orioles gained his eighth victory and handed the Athletics their 17th setback in their last 20 games by leading Baltimore to a 7-5 triumph.

I SHOT AN ARROW...

In the flight of an arrow this young lady glimpses something of the question mark that is life. She compared herself to the arrow, trembling and plunging toward the earth... falling at some distant, unknown point. She thinks of the childhood poem she once learned, "I shot an arrow into the air... it fell to earth, I know not where."

Until she discovered the Church, thoughts like these troubled her. But in the Church she found the answer, a secure knowledge that her flight of life will be guided by a higher power to a perfect destination.

Like this girl, everyone has flights of fancy. We dream of, plan for, and have misgivings about the future. That is why we must discover the Church and its teachings, for under its influence, our destiny will become sure, and our future will take on a new meaning.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL... ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For the sake of his community and nation. (3) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Growing Through Prayer

Luke 11:13; Philippians 4:6-7
GOLDEN TEXT: "Rejoice evermore. Pray without ceasing. In everything give thanks—for this is the will of God in Christ Jesus concerning you." (1 Thessalonians 5:16-18)

INTRODUCTION: In this series of lessons we are studying about how a Christian may grow spiritually. Last week we found that we may grow through daily Bible study. This week we add to that means of growth the use of prayer. Surely the two go together. One should never study his Bible without first praying for wisdom and understanding.

Much has been written about prayer. Much has been said about it. Not much has been done about it. People talk about ways of praying, attitudes in prayer and even posture while praying; but they make little use of prayer. The primary question facing us today is not, "how do you pray?" It is, rather, "how much do you pray?"

I. THE LORD'S PRAYER (Luke 11:1-4)
No more beautiful prayer was ever uttered into human speech than this prayer given by Jesus to his disciples. It has been set to music, and any audience is hushed into awesome reverence when it is properly rendered by a talented soloist.

This prayer begins properly. It recognizes God as Father at its very beginning. This makes the Christian, who prays this prayer sincerely, a child of God. We are "sons of God." We are "heirs of God and joint-heirs with Jesus Christ."

In this prayer every need of man is met. The one praying asks for His "kingdom to come and His will to be done in earth as it is in heaven." Daily bread is asked for, and forgiveness of trespasses, with the promise that the one praying will also "forgive those who trespass against them." Prayer against temptation is also made. God will answer this prayer for anyone who sincerely prays it. Praying it and
